Dear Parent/Carer,

We are on the countdown to the summer holidays, but there is still plenty to achieve in the next two weeks so we can't relax just yet! Teachers are busy inputting final levels for the year onto our assessment system, Onwards and Upwards, in readiness for the online Parents' Evening on 14th July. End of Year reports are being written and will be despatched to parents in the final week of term. It is a strange time in school as many of our Year 11s are very sad to be leaving after five happy Cambridge years, but are excited and nervous about their next steps into college. Tonight is going to be epic as we have the Cambridge Prom in the Hall. Staff are in a frenzy of cooking and decorating to ensure that the Year 11s get a sensational send off and dance the night away in style, to 9pm at least!

The exam season has finished and the internal and external moderation of the papers has begun. I am very optimistic that I will be reporting on some real successes in September. Classes are still working hard, but also going on trips into the community to gain confidence and experience in real life situations. Einstein class visited Jack Tizard School to engage in shared activities and this partnership brought out the best of our students as they were able to collaborate with students who have different needs. They were mature and responsible and a credit to Cambridge.

We have been hard hit by staff absence this week with Covid rearing its ugly head once again. I want to thank the staff and learners for pulling together as one strong community to ensure that there has been minimal disruption to learning and keeping cool heads in the sunshine to maintain a calm and stable learning environment.
